Federal Action On Voting Rights Sought By GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican leaders move today toward translating into legislation their call for federal action to assure Negroes the right to register and vote.

The new Republican coordinating committee said in its initial statement Wednesday it was outraged at the denial "by force and fraud" of Negro voting rights. It set a goal of assuring every citizen his constitutional rights in this field before the 1966 elections.

The coordinating group is composed of congressional leaders, governors, former presidential candidates and national committee members. It announced its support for President Johnson's course in South Viet Nam. It denounced Democratic "disruptive voices of appeasement," which it said, "undercut the President."

MENOMINEE (AP) — Daily service by Ann Arbor railroad ferries, halted for six weeks by unusually thick ice in Green Bay, was to resume between Menominee and Sturgeon Bay, Wis., today.

The boats normally make five trips a week, carrying railroad cars. The U.S. Coast Guard cutter Mesquite cut a channel through the two-foot-thick ice between the two ports Wednesday.

Right Of State To Stop Negro March Challenged

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — The spotlight on Alabama's racial strife switches today to this capital city where a federal judge considers whether state officials may interfere with peaceful demonstrations on behalf of Negro rights.

The main question before U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. is a suit filed by attorneys for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. The suit asks Johnson to halt Gov. George C. Wallace, Al Lingo, Alabama public safety director, and Dallas County Sheriff James G. Clark from interfering with a planned march by Negro demonstrators from Selma to Montgomery to plead for Negro voting rights.

However, the Justice Department has asked Johnson to consider the broader question of forbidding Wallace and other officials from interfering with any peaceful demonstrations. Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach intervened in the suit Wednesday.

There were these other developments on the Alabama racial scene:

1. Selma's public safety director, Wilson Baker, announced the arrest of three white men on charges of beating three white Unitarian ministers who came to Selma to participate in the civil rights drive.

2. About 350 civil rights demonstrators slept in the streets of Selma in 40-degree weather in a vigil for one of the beaten ministers, the Rev. James Reeb, 38, of Boston, who lay near death in a Birmingham hospital. It was the first nighttime demonstration in Selma in the almost eight weeks since the right-to-vote campaign began in this rural farm soil area known as the Black Belt. The vigil grew out of a night march which along with an earlier one was halted by Mayor Joe Smitherman and state police.

3. A cold rain brought an abrupt end to a demonstration in Montgomery by about 125 civil rights marchers before the Capitol building. Earlier, about 1,000 demonstrators tried to get into the Capitol to see Wallace, but were kept out by police. A homemade fire bomb was thrown onto a Negro house but was extinguished with little damage.

4. Former Florida Gov. LeRoy Collins, a personal representative of President Johnson, canceled a scheduled speech at the University of Florida and flew back to Selma, where he hoped to talk with white and Negro leaders today.

Guard Hearings Are Resumed In Lansing Today

LANSING (AP) — After a three-week recess in Gov. George Romney's National Guard hearings, attorneys planned to finish presenting the first of three charges against two suspended generals today.

Romney heard 16 hours of testimony in three days in mid-February. Then he recessed the hearings because of commitments of his own and because of a military duty assignment of one of the defense attorneys.

Testimony thus far has been on a charge that Maj. Gen. Ronald McDonald and Brig. Gen. Carson Neifert failed to give the State Military Board details on land transactions which accusers contend were illegal.

The two other charges involve bookkeeping procedures which, the charges say, concealed the true nature of some expenditures.

In each case, the two generals are accused of "gross neglect of duty, misfeasance and malfeasance."

Assistant Atty. Gen. Russell Searl said he would complete his case on the Camp Grayling land transactions by calling Robert Hovey, a state agency auditor, and John Alef, president of the Grayling State Bank, to the stand.

Then, Searl said, he plans to call disbursing officers from five or six armories to testify on the second charge.

He contends supplemental allowances to some armories actually were used for capital construction at Camp Grayling.

The hearings were to move today to a larger room than the 45-seat chamber in which they opened.

Milliken Picks Belding Man As $1 Assistant

LANSING (AP) — Lt. Gov. William Milliken has announced the appointment of former Sen. John Stahl of Belding as a dollar-a-year assistant for political affairs and other assignments.

Stahl was campaign manager in Milliken's successful run for lieutenant governor. Stahl, president of Stahl Bros. Fibre Works Inc. of Belding, will divide his time between his business and the lieutenant governor's office.

The token $1 yearly salary, Milliken said, will come out of his own pocket rather than his office budget.

Suit Against Alabama Gets More Support

LANSING (AP) — Michigan attorneys moved today with informal support from at least three other states to determine the best way to bring suit against Alabama for its alleged denial of Negroes' voting rights.

State Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley announced Wednesday he wants to invoke a U.S. Constitution section which provides for reduction of a state's delegation to the U.S. House of Representatives in proportion to the number of citizens illegally denied voting rights.

Four top staff members will try to determine within 10 days whether such a suit in U.S. Supreme Court would best be brought by the State of Michigan, a group of states, individual citizens or the U.S. Attorney General.

Two other Midwest attorneys general and one from the East gave Kelley oral support in telephone conversations Wednesday following his announcement. He wrote others of his plan. He would not say specifically from whom support came.

Backed By Governor
Republican Gov. George Romney also threw his complete backing in the matter behind the Democratic attorney general.

Kelley said he has considered such a suit for about two years. Developments within the past week at Selma, Ala., where parading Negroes were beaten and gassed, precipitated Kelley's action.

He emphasized, though, that the suit would be concerned only with voting rights, not freedom of assembly or right to petition.

The suit would specifically

Johnson Jokes With Boys In Job Corps Camp

THURMONT, Md. (AP) — miles up the Catoctin Mountains from here, is the first of 77 proposed conservation centers in 33 states. It is not far from Camp David, a rustic retreat used by every president since Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Johnson drew on his own experiences — drifting from job to job until he decided to enroll in college — when he grabbed one young man by the arm, marched him along by his side, and proffered some paternal advice.

"Write home because when I was in California as a boy, my mother was always after me to write," he said.

To James Blackmon, 19, a New Haven, Conn., youth who is learning how to drive heavy equipment, the President said: "If you get onto that good, you'll have to come down home and help me do some bulldozing."

Blackmon, a big fellow who sports a pearl in the pierced lobe of his right ear, beamed and replied: "Don't worry. I'll take care of you."

Beaten Pastor Is Near Death

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A white minister was near death today in a hospital, his anxious wife near his side, while in Selma three white men faced state and federal charges in the beating given him and two other Unitarian clergymen.

The Rev. James J. Reeb, 38, of Boston, still was unconscious from a clubbing he received Tuesday night in Selma as the aftermath of a civil rights march there.

His wife, Marie, was with him at the hospital, pale and shaken by what had happened.

The mother of four children told newsmen Wednesday after her arrival from Boston that both she and her husband had been aware of the potential danger, when he took the trip South.

"I said I would prefer that he didn't go," she said, her lips quivering slightly. "But he felt he had to go."

Mrs. Reeb said her husband considered the civil rights cause important enough to merit the beating he received at the hands of white men outside a Selma cafe.

Reeb was with the Rev. Orloff F. Miller, 25, of Boston, and the Rev. Clark Olson, 32, of Berkeley, Calif., at the time. Miller and Olson escaped serious injury.

Three men were arrested in connection with the incident and pickup orders were issued for a fourth man still at large.

Two of the men were released from Selma city jail early today on bond of $7,500 each on charges of assault with intent to murder.

Queen Ends Boycott, Will See Duchess Of Windsor

LONDON (AP) — After 29 years, Queen Elizabeth II is ending the British royal boycott of the Duchess of Windsor.

As the duke — her uncle — lay ill in London with the sight of one eye in danger, the queen let it be known she intends to visit him and meet the American-born divorcee for whom he gave up the British throne in 1936.

No previous meeting between the queen and the duchess is on record. The general belief in London is that they have never met.

The queen intended the meeting to take place today. But the duke, lying immobile and with his eyes bandaged after his fourth major operation in three months, was said by his physicians to be too ill to receive visitors.

Duke Now 70
The queen is expected to visit her uncle when his doctors decide he is well enough. "This is not a casual meeting," said a spokesman for Buckingham Palace. "It has been arranged that when the queen goes to visit the duke, the duchess will be with him."

Wednesday the duke underwent a third operation to correct a detached retina of the left eye. His physicians said his condition was "technically satisfactory." The eye surgery followed a major operation in the United States last December to repair an abdominal artery.

Medical sources said the operation Wednesday would be the last attempt to correct the duke's eye trouble, indicating that his age and his recent circulatory trouble would make further surgery hazardous.

The duke — the former King Edward VIII — is 70. The duchess is 68. The queen was a 10-year-old girl when he sailed from Britain in December 1936, to marry Wallis Warfield Simpson.

Air Assaults May Go Deeper In N. Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — A presidential policy conference at Camp David indicates new decisions on the U.S. role in the Vietnamese war may be in the making.

One question believed to be under top-level consideration is whether U.S. air attacks on military bases in North Viet Nam should be carried deeper into that country. So far they have been restricted to the southern regions, well away from the capital, Hanoi.

Wednesday night's conference at the presidential retreat in the mountains of western Maryland brought together President Johnson, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, and McGeorge Bundy and Bill D. Moyers, White House aides.

Peace Moves Noted
The topic for the meeting was not announced but it was understood that the major subject, at least, was Viet Nam and that Camp David was chosen by the President because it afforded a relaxed atmosphere in which he and his chief advisers could talk out the whole complex of problems associated with the Southeast Asian conflict.

These include the efforts by many other countries, including Britain, France and the Soviet Union, to initiate peace talks; political and military conditions inside South Viet Nam, which U.S. officials are said to consider difficult and disappointing but not hopeless, and the Johnson administration's desire for support from other countries in the struggle in Viet Nam.

The central problem constantly before Johnson and his chief diplomatic and military advisers, however, is how to bring enough pressure on Communist North Viet Nam to persuade the leaders in Hanoi to halt the infiltration of troops and arms into the South to reinforce the Viet Cong guerrilla fighters trying to take over the country.

More Destruction Faced
U.S. combat planes began attacking the North Feb. 7. The raids were described initially as retaliation for Communist guerrilla attacks on U.S. installations in the South and on South Vietnamese troops.

The strategy behind the air strikes, however, was to make North Viet Nam feel the destructive force of U.S. military power in Southeast Asia. Implicit in the operations from the beginning was the possibility that if the North Vietnamese leaders did not abandon what the United States has called their aggression against the south they faced increasing destruction in their own country.

It is now more than a month since the air strikes were first undertaken and U.S. officials say that if and when any new decisions are made for expanded U.S. operations against the North they will very likely be made known not by advance announcement but as result of action in the field.

Porcupine Camp Escaper Caught In Osburn, Idaho

OSBURN, Idaho (AP) — The second of two fugitives from a Michigan State Prison farm was captured quietly in a cafe here Wednesday.

William Lincoln, 28, watched in the cafe from across the street while officers searched a stolen truck he had been driving, then offered no resistance when arrested. Lincoln was not armed and admitted his identity.

Lincoln and Robert McClain, 42, used a knife to overpower a guard at the Camp Porcupine, Mich., prison farm March 2 and escaped in the guard's pickup truck.

McClain was captured by two policemen in a Spokane, Wash., tavern Monday night.

State Chamber Backs Bridge Bond Refunding

The Michigan State Chamber of Commerce favors legislation for refunding the Mackinac Bridge project to produce lower tolls and thus encourage traffic and business, it announces in its State Legislation Report.

The Michigan Chamber's presentation of "supporting facts" comes only a few days after public questioning of the refunding plan by Northern Michigan University's Dr. Kenneth L. Parkhurst, member of the governor's bridge study committee.

Dr. Parkhurst asks: "Will lowering toll rates on the Mackinac Bridge have a strong economic impact on the Upper Peninsula?" There is almost no research now to answer this question, says the acting head of the NMU department of economics and sociology.

The Michigan State Chamber of Commerce, however, is supporting a bill to permit refunding of the Mackinac Bridge bonds and presents "supporting facts" designed to show there will be benefit to the U. P. region.

"The Michigan State Chamber of Commerce endorses and supports legislation to implement the Constitutional provision for issuance of general obligation bonds with the lowest possible interest rate for the purpose of refunding bonds issued by the Mackinac Bridge Authority," the State Chamber reports in a policy statement.

"The lower interest rate will result in substantial savings that can and should be reflected by lower toll charges."

"The State Chamber believes this will help the economy of Michigan by encouraging more use of the bridge, which in turn, should be helpful to the economy of the Upper Peninsula."

"This policy is consistent with the State Chamber program to improve the business conditions, job opportunities and attractiveness of Michigan as a leading industrial agricultural and tourist state."

Toll revenues at the bridge have never reached the volume estimated in advance of the construction of the bridge, which opened to traffic in 1957.

"However, it should be pointed out that there is no emergency or crisis," the State Chamber continues. "Income has been sufficient to meet all interest payment schedules and it is assumed that present payment schedules can be met. The recommendation to refund has no relation to any difficulty in meeting the payment schedule."

Park Pavilion Timber Cut

By MRS. DAVID DRAZE POWERS-SPALDING — The Lions Club of Powers-Spalding in 1947 started a project that each year since has been improved and expanded—a roadside park that benefits the people of this area as well as the tourists.

The club began the project by brushing, clearing and grading the area of land selected one half mile west of Powers on Highway U. S. 2.

Many hours of labor went into the initial steps of creating a park area along with donations of equipment and materials. A Park Commission was formed to handle the planning and other details. A few years later a dam was built on the Big Cedar River, which flows through the park, to create a swimming hole. A concrete slab, 30 by 90 ft. was laid for tennis minded people, or it can be used for other games and dancing.

A well was drilled and is periodically tested by the State Health Department for public safety. Rest rooms, picnic tables, metal fire places, trash cans, swings and dredging the swimming area were added. In 1956 dedication ceremonies acclaimed it "Veterans Memorial Park."

Each year thousands of tourists make use of the accommodations and each day throughout the summer the youngsters and older folks alike swim, relax and enjoy the comforting park environment. The annual 4th of July celebration is held there.

Protection for concessions last summer started talk, followed by plans and action to build a pavilion. The Oliver Mining Co. was contacted and generously donated the log timber for this project. Their cruisers selected and marked this timber, located four miles north of Spaulding near the old Nowack farm.

Joint efforts of the Lions and American Legion and other civic minded men carrying power saws, axes and measuring poles, toppled the huge hemlock trees and sawed them into log lengths.

Three days later, with the help of "Bubs" Kirchner using his father's tractor, the logs were skidded beside the truck road. After an agreement was reached with Pine Timber Co. of Spaulding for sawing the logs the job of hauling them began with Arnold Bros. of Hermansville being hired for this.

Superior Equipment Co. of Powers donated the use of a fork lift tractor to loosen the logs, which had been frozen to the ground.

The timbers are now being saved from the logs and as soon as ground and weather conditions permit, construction will begin, with the hope to have it completed by July 4 at which time the dedication will take place.

Ministers Study Counseling Plan

The Protestant clergymen of the Delta County Ministerial Association considered a heavy agenda at their March meeting, with the major item the proposal being studied for the establishment of a joint Protestant - Roman Catholic Counseling Service for the Escanaba area.

The Rev. Benjamin A. Gienovick of Milwaukee, executive director of Lutheran Welfare Services of Wisconsin and Upper Michigan, was present to share observations on the proposal and to act as a resource person for the ensuing discussion.

Although no formal action is expected in the near future, committees were authorized to continue their studies and investigations leading to the gathering of facts which will be necessary for final decisions.

In other action the Ministerial Association instructed its secretary to send a letter of protest to local athletic officials and their area and state organizations concerning the scheduling of tournament games on Wednesdays, and Ash Wednesday in particular. It also heard a report from the Radio Committee to the effect that "The Protestant Hour" a nationally known and highly regarded religious broadcast will be aired over an Escanaba station beginning in the near future.

The Rev. Doctor Walfred Nelson, pastor of Bethany Lutheran Church of Escanaba was appointed to preach the sermon at the Annual Pentecost Service, an ecumenical meeting to which members of all faiths are invited. This year's service will be on the afternoon of June 6.

The pastors of the Association heard a request from the woman of a local congregation that a certain night of the week be promoted as a night for church women's organizations thus making it possible for other community organizations to plan their schedules accordingly. This item was referred to the April meeting pending further study.

A statement regarding the position of the Ministerial Association on gambling was adopted for publication. The statement in its entirety appears on the editorial page of the Escanaba Daily Press today.

Crusader, 100, Hopes She Still Is Doing Good

GULL LAKE (AP) — Writer, painter, crusader, Miss Florence Lillian Bush, who lives alone in her cottage on Gull Lake, says she likes to think she is "still doing some good in this old world."

Miss Bush is 100 years old today and when friends tell her she really should slow down, she replies, "Don't bury me until I'm dead. A person ought to live twice in order to do all the things he wants to do."

"You don't know what you can do until you try," she says. "What are your hidden talents? Of course you have hidden talents, everybody does."

Miss Bush says she likes to think of herself as a crusader. "I like to try to change things that are wrong in this world."

Next to the typewriter, on her cluttered desk is a list of addresses of U.S. congressmen. When bills in which she is interested come up, she writes her opinions to the lawmakers. She has several replies to these letters.

"Everyone thinks an old person is wound up in the past. I'm not. I'm interested in what's happening now," she says.

Over the years Miss Bush has written more than 600 short stories, countless articles and poems. "This Day" magazine recently published one of her articles on Lincoln.

When not busy at her typewriter, Miss Bush takes up brush and palette to paint in oils. She has been painting since 1883 and has had her landscapes and portraits in several exhibits and sidewalk shows.

Miss Bush attributes her long life, in part, to her active interest in the world. "I never worry much, I eat the right foods and observe good health rules. I try never to get sick in the first place. And, of course, I don't drink or smoke."

Phillips Faces Court Charges

GREEN BAY, Wis.—A 17-year-old Green Bay youth, who was shot by a Michigan State Police officer from Gladstone when caught last week driving a stolen car near Escanaba, was arraigned Wednesday in Brown County Court on one count of burglary and four counts of auto theft.

Preliminary hearing for Kenneth J. Phillips was set for March 19. Phillips asked for a court-appointed attorney.

Phillips and a 14-year-old companion were charged with breaking and entering and auto theft for taking a 1963 Buick March 2 from the James Puy-laert Garage.

The two youths drove the car to Escanaba where they were stopped by the patrolman. When Phillips tried to grab the officer's gun and run away, the patrolman shot him in the leg. Both youths were returned to Green Bay by Sheriff Department officers.

Judge James W. Byers waived juvenile jurisdiction in Phillips' case, but following a juvenile Court hearing Tuesday, the 14-year-old East Side boy was committed to the State School for Boys at Wales.

The younger boy had been apprehended by juvenile authorities in February for auto theft, and was awaiting the final hearing in this matter when the last offense took place.

In addition to the Puy-laert break-in, Phillips is also charged with auto theft in three other cases.

Suggest 10-Year Plan To Improve Michigan Parks

By WILLIAM J. TREPAGNIER

In Motor News

Michigan needs to give its ailing state park system a massive dose of monetary medicine — more than $130 million worth — between now and 1975 to cure long-standing ills of inadequacy and over-use.

This remedy prescribed in a 10-year plan just completed by the Parks and Recreation Section of the Conservation Department would nearly triple the capacity of present state parks. It would enable Michigan to meet the rocketing recreation demands of its exploding population and preserve its image as a state where visitors are both welcome and accommodated in a style befitting a tourist industry leader.

The plan visualizes that state park attendance will soar from the present 14 million plus a year to 37 million in 1975. It provides for double the present number of camping sites and triple the facilities for so-called "day use" — swimming, picnicking, hiking, nature study and just plain having fun outdoors in a natural setting.

In The Middle

It blueprints a park system that will satisfy the recreational wants of nearly 400,000 persons a day, and it projects population and use figures to show that even these ambitious goals are built on realities.

About 50,000 would-be camping families were turned away from state park campgrounds in 1964, or 10,000 more than in 1963. And this despite an increase of nearly 30 per cent in camping capacity since 1960.

Michigan stands squarely in the path of a nationwide wave of enthusiasm for outdoor recreation, a wave compounded of more people with more money, more leisure and more awareness of the pleasures to be had in places like parks. Slow to appreciate its magnitude, Michigan is paying the price of inaction. Travel and tourism dollars are going to other states and to Canada, where awareness came earlier.

California, for instance, has a $150 million parks expansion program underway. In New York the figure is $125 million, Pennsylvania $70 million, New Jersey $60 million, Wisconsin and Minnesota $50 million each. All are strong tourist competitors of Michigan.

Make Income

The new proposal of the Conservation Department, if backed up by the Legislature with the $131,085,094 of appropriations needed to implement it during the next 10 years, would restore Michigan to its place of parks pre-eminence. It would recapture lost tourist traffic, stimulate sales of gasoline, food, clothing, equipment and all the other things that traveling recreationists buy and, incidentally, put a goodly chunk of money into the state treasury.

It's impossible to compute the exact tax take from state park users, but it is considerable. Revenue from motor vehicle fees, camping fees and park concession leases alone topped $2 million in 1964. If rates remain as they are, that figure could be expected to just about triple in 10 years. Parks and recreation areas are not supposed to return a profit to the state, but they bring in enough income to offset a good share of their cost. And some would argue that healthy outdoor fun makes an indirect contribution to fiscal economy by reducing requirements for mental hospitals, juvenile detention homes and prisons.

Principal architect of the new plan is Paul R. Rearick, in charge of policies and procedures for the Conservation Department's parks and recreation staff, under the supervision of Arthur C. Elmer, veteran state park chief. Many others had a hand in its development.

Beyond needs for land and money, the 10-year program proposes exciting, challenging new ideas for management of the park system to gear it to the complex demands of the future. Perhaps the most interesting is a classification system that would categorize Michigan parks in seven ways:

1. State suburban parks, located near urban centers and characterized by heavy mass, intensive use. Examples are Bay City State Park, Dodge No. 4, Grand Haven, Holland, Sterling.

2. State recreation parks, which although not situated close to metropolitan areas are readily accessible to large numbers of people who use them for camping, picnicking, swimming and the like. About half the present 64 parks fall into this class.

3. State recreation areas, like recreation parks but bigger. The 12 in southeast Michigan fit the description. They provide large chunks of open space for such activities as hunting, fishing, hiking, horseback riding, bird-watching, in addition to camping, swimming and similar uses.

4. State scenic parks, in which the prime goal is to preserve unique scenic values with recreation secondary. Hartwick Pines, Warren Dunes, Wilderness and Tahquamenon Falls are outstanding illustrations.

5. State wilderness parks, such as Porcupine Mountains in the Upper Peninsula, where preservation of a wild, natural condition is the uppermost aim.

6. State historic parks, to be managed for historic and cultural values. Fayette and Fort Wilkins are examples.

7. State travel parks.

This last category is a new idea in Michigan parks thinking. The purpose would be to accommodate the camper-tourist looking for a place to spend the night en route to some distant destination. Such parks would be on or near main travel routes. They would be small but complete with necessary overnight facilities — spaces for tents, and trailers, water, toilets and showers, tables, stoves, electricity. Stays would be limited to 24 hours, at least during peak travel periods, with a fee set to make the parks as nearly self-supporting as possible.

Praise Is Given To Commission On Civil Rights

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Civil Rights Commission, criticized last week for "Gestapo-like tactics," was praised Tuesday for "the work it has done in the field of human rights and dignity of mankind."

Sen. John Bowman, D-Roseville, had leveled the criticism at the year-old bipartisan commission.

Rep. David Holmes, D-Detroit, praised it for helping place Michigan "among the best in the United States to do business in and live in." He introduced a resolution that was referred to committee.

Holmes, a Negro, praised the commission as unsurpassed by any agency in any other state "as far as being effective in guaranteeing the rights of all its citizens."

Chips And Splinters

Ivan Thomson of Crystal Falls, game biologist for the Menominee - Dickinson - Iron county district of the Conservation Department, isn't a fellow to count his turkeys before they're caught.

Asked by the Daily Press about prospective dates for the wild turkey planting announced by the Conservation Department for the Stephenson area in Menominee County, Thomson said:

"This is a rather exciting prospect. We hope it works. I understand, however, that previous attempts to trap wild turkeys in Southern Michigan have failed. The release should be made somewhere around April 1 if at all."

The timing would be aimed to permit nesting and rearing of young flocks by the planted birds.

Changing Medicare

When the results of last November's elections were in, the long fight for medicare seemed over. (Medicare actually should be called "hospital care" because that's what it involves.)

As proposed in the King-Anderson Bill it would provide hospital care for the elderly under social security. It would be available to everyone, not just to those who couldn't afford to pay for their own, as under the current Kerr-Mills Act, which finances (with state participation) our Medical Aid to the Aged program in our U.P. medicare facilities.

In the November election the voters ousted enough Congressional conservatives and put in enough liberals to assure passage of a medicare program under social security. But the act still has to be rewritten. This process is underway and it will answer some of the criticisms of King-Anderson by Republicans and also some raised by the American Medical Association, although it is impossible that it will please either fully.

Some of our doctors who fought the original medicare plan strongly have seemed weary of contest since November, but the AMA is carrying on an active campaign for its "Eldercare" plan, stressing that it would pay the doctor bills as well as the hospital costs of the elderly.

The national press reaction has been a mixed salad. Some editorial critics have said that AMA, from earlier having complained that medicare would cost too much, is now saying that it won't do enough. The AMA "Eldercare" plan proposed as an extension of the Kerr-Mills Act in a bill now in Congress sponsored by Representatives Curtis and Herlong would provide more care than the medicare plan, but it would also, its critics say, be so expensive that it has small chance of adoption.

"Eldercare" still would retain some income means test and this sort of caution, while in our tradition, seems out of joint with modern calls for socializing health services and sending the taxpayers a huge bill for it. Critics say that income tests can't gauge the adequacy of private means for extended hospital care.

The AMA and the Republicans have influenced the Democrats' new medicare bill. It includes the Republican plan to cover doctor bills and other medical costs. It will be a broader program than the one asked by President Johnson and will include a compulsory hospital and nursing home insurance program under social security, plus a voluntary plan for coverage of other medical costs.

Elderly persons would have choice of joining the medical cost portion at $3 a month—with their payment matched by the federal government. A policyholder would pay 30 per cent of all medical costs after a certain deduction. The insurance would pay the rest. Financing of the combined program is being worked out. Under the original medicare plan funds were to be raised by increasing the social security tax rate and boosting the taxable base from the first $4,800 of income to the first $5,600.

The AMA has forced a more comprehensive proposal, but has not prevailed in its plea for a package in which those able to do so care for their own needs, so that the government's aid might be confined to the needy and not become such a burden upon taxpayers in the lower income brackets.

New GOP Livewire

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The Republican party has no more energetic, inventive builder today than a tall, slat-like fellow named Craig Truax, 36, the Pennsylvania GOP chairman.

He is one of the toughest-fibered young professionals to appear on the scene in years. About half the time, however, he acts like a kind of rangy elf who hasn't a serious care.

It's a nice cover. While Truax is smiling impishly, he is busy checking his 30 or 40 irons in the fire and adding more.

Throughout the struggle to oust Dean Burch as national chairman, Truax was being discreetly feverish in the background, happy that Midwesterners, many of them Gold-waterites, were lugging the ball. In those days Truax was using the long distance telephone like a family intercom.

He's in the thick of an effort by party seniors to take the Young Republicans' chairmanship out of the grasp of arch conservatives at the YR convention this June in Miami.

Truax turned up at the YR's recent "leadership school" in Washington and quietly insinuated himself as an uninvited panel member for a closed-door discussion of campaign planning.

In Philadelphia he piloted a Pennsylvania - New Jersey-Delaware meeting of party people aimed at projecting Republicans deep into the business of attacking complex urban problems — as a step toward winning the city - suburban vote.

His interest in getting good candidates for high office in many places is considerably more than vocal. But he's active vocally, too. Since November he's made a flock of hard-hitting speeches telling Republicans they've got to meet the nation's problems if they ever expect to be taken seriously as an instrument for governing.

Amid this whirlpool of endeavor, Truax chases around Pennsylvania on state party chores. A bunch of specialists are being launched into researches that may help Republicans figure what kind of a Pennsylvania they'll have to adapt to in the next 20 years.

If you clocked his mileage, verbal and otherwise, you'd swear Truax was running for office, but he insists he's not. Says he:

"The political life of a party chairman is about as long as a moth's. He's got one moment in the larger picture to do something for his party."

This wiry type from Pennsylvania offers any biographer a few surprises. He's an Indiana farm boy telling a court-house-oriented major party to get with it in the city.

He came off a 40-acre farm that barely operated above the subsistence level. He joined the Army at 17, served postwar in Japan, was discharged as an anti-tank platoon sergeant. In the Korean war he jumped in to the Navy, where he became an information specialist.

In 1954 he became editor of the Wellsboro (Pa.) Gazette. Two years later he was with the State Republican Committee, where—except for a short interlude elsewhere—he rose steadily to the chairmanship in early 1963.

Truax lives and talks politics with the zest of a Boston Irish Democrat. Talking it candidly with newsmen, he really needs a clerk at his elbow to record the times he goes off the record by saying: "You're not a reporter, RIGHT?"

Who says Republicans can't be fun? This fellow has the stuff of which majority parties are made. He goes at it with endless drive, with ideas, with unquenchable good spirit.

He deserves to live longer than a moth.

Truck Slips, Gets Lost In River At Kalamazoo

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Robert Gordon was dumping a truckload of snow into the Kalamazoo River Tuesday when he got too close and the truck slipped in and went down in 15 feet of water.

Gordon managed to escape from the sunken truck and swim to shore. He was not injured.

Divers from the Kalamazoo Fire Department were called and went down in an effort to attach a towline to the sunken vehicle. They couldn't find the vehicle. They theorize the swift river current has carried the pickup truck away.

BETTING

The Delta County Ministerial Association in its regular meeting held on March 5, 1965 renewed its consistent stand against any further legalizing or additional introduction of any manner of gambling in our State. This action was taken in view of the publicity regarding efforts to legalize greyhound racing in Michigan and proposals for the use of the State's share of the expected proceeds.

The Association rejects any implication whatever that the legalization of gambling or its proliferation makes it any less dangerous or immoral.

We wish to call this stand against any extension of gambling, legal or otherwise, to the attention of the editor of the Escanaba Daily Press and its readers, and especially to those who hold responsibility for making and enforcing laws.

What My Faith Means To Me

By MRS. RODGER HERSON
St. Patrick Church

My religion to me is the constant knowing and belief that there is a God; God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Ghost; and that this God is aware of each and everyone of us; where we are and what is happening to us.

On the bright days when all seems to go well in our little world; it is good to know God intended that for us. On the gray days when we seem to be out of step with the rest of the world; unable to please husband and children and neighbors, it is a great comfort to me to know that God knows I am here and a greater comfort to know that this is where he wants me to be.

My Catholic religion with the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass, the many sacraments and other novenas and devotions all help me to feel the presence of God as a very real thing. This knowledge of God's constant presence helps me to accept situations that I cannot or have on control over and to say "God's Will be Done."

Dear Ann Landers: I will soon be 16 but I'm about 100 years old in terms of suffering.

My parents have been married 18 years. I am the oldest of five children. Everybody in town knows my father is running around with a young girl who works around the corner from his place of business. They have lunch together every day and he even takes her to movies and out dancing.

Mom acts as if everything is perfect. When Dad telephones at 6:00 o'clock and says he isn't coming home to dinner, she says, "That's all right dear. Thanks for calling." Then she tells us kids that Dad is working hard for US.

This fractures me. I am dying to tell Mom what is REALLY going on because I hate to see her made a fool. Help. Please — XXX.

Dear XXX: Say nothing. If everyone in town knows about your father's disgraceful behavior your mother knows, too. She is trying to cover up for you kids. Pretending of this kind calls for tremendous courage. You Mom deserves your respect and admiration.

Have a talk with your father, however. Tell him you know about his high jinks and you think HE should know that he's the subject of much ugly talk.

Dear Ann Landers: We tried to raise our children with a good set of values. The money has been set aside for their education and we feel that college is essential these days.

Our 17-year old daughter decided last week that she doesn't want to go to college. She thinks it would be fun to "get out on her own." Is it possible that her obsession with so-called singing groups has warped her mind?

She spends all her money on records and magazines containing articles about her idols. When she isn't listening to records she is on the phone discussing them. She had aims and ambitions until these singing groups came along.

Are we wrong to insist that she go to college? Help, please. —R. C. M.

Dear R. C. M.: Don't blame the "so-called singing groups" because your daughter has no interest in going to college. The real reason for her lack of motivation goes much deeper.

No one should have privileges forced on them — and college is a privilege. The young person who goes to college to do his folks a favor wastes their money and his time and I am against it.

Dear Ann Landers: Today I read in your column (for the 10th time) these words: "Talk to your clergyman or your family doctor." It sounds like good advice but how does one go about finding a clergyman or a family doctor who can be trusted?

Recently my husband and I moved from a city where we had some sad experiences because we confided in our clergyman. He told his wife everything — and she passed on every word to her friends. In that same city, a physician who had a fine practice employed a nurse who was the town busybody. What he didn't tell her she picked up from the records.

At present I am employed in a credit office. Every day I have lunch with secretaries, bank employees, dental assistants and nurses. The gossip I hear from 12:30 to 1:30 is shocking.

Please publish my letter, Ann. Perhaps some people who read it will ask themselves "could this be me" — OLD STONEFACE.

Dear Face: Just for a change of pace, I suggest that you take this column to lunch tomorrow and read it to the girls.

No teen-ager is as confident as he appears. Get clued in. Send for Ann Landers book-let "Dating Do's and Don'ts," enclosing with your request 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

NEEDS NEW LUCK

MUSKEGON HEIGHTS, Mich. (AP)—Patrolman Donald E. Bedwell, 26, was: Attacked and beaten by a teen-age gang when he sought to break up a fight; was hospitalized when a police cruiser was in an accident; fell on ice and sprained his ankle; and tangled with a holdup suspect who nearly pulled him out a second-story window. So Bedwell turned in his badge, No. 13, and asked for a new number. He now wears Badge No. 17.

Marines Leave For Okinawa

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii (AP) — A 6,000-man Marine brigade boarded ships Wednesday night, reportedly bound for Okinawa to replace 3,500 Marines sent to South Viet Nam early this week.

"The Marines are moving," said a spokesman for Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp, Pacific military commander. There was no other official comment in Hawaii on the troop movement.

The 1st Marine Brigade members were moved from Hawaii's Kaneohe Marine Corps Air Station to Pearl Harbor by truck convoy last month.

Original plans were for the Marines to take part in Operation Silver Lance, the military training maneuver off the California Coast.

But the first units of the brigade boarded ships Wednesday night for Okinawa, not California. About 1,000 brigade members are staying behind in Hawaii.

A report from Washington said the brigade includes helicopter units also bound for Okinawa, the main American military staging area in the Far Pacific.

School Grants Easement For Gas Pipeline

The Bark River-Harris Board of Education, meeting Tuesday evening, March 9, 1965, at the Elementary School, granted an easement to the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. to construct and maintain a natural gas pipeline across school owned property.

The Board granted approval, as it felt such construction would be beneficial to many people in the area.

Also discussed were requests for a change in schedule for the 1965 Easter vacation. It had been scheduled for Thursday and Friday, April 15 and 16. This would necessitate many persons leaving the area to travel on Easter Day. It was decided to change the vacation to Friday and Monday, April 16 and 19 as a convenience for parents and students in the district.

In other action, the 1965-66 school calendar was approved. It will call for school commencing on Aug. 30, 1965 and ending on May 27, 1966.

Senate Passes Payroll Bill

LANSING (AP) — The Senate passed a $4.1 million supplemental appropriation bill Wednesday and sent it to the House where it must be passed by Monday if representatives are to be paid on time.

The measure includes $993,000 for Senate and House operations and another $200,000 for relocation expenses of state agencies displaced from the Capitol by expansion of Senate and House staffs and workspace.

The expansion depleted the House treasury to the point where not enough money originally appropriated is on hand to meet the March 15 payroll of the 108 representatives.

Only opposition to the bill came from Sen. Milton Zaagman, R-Grand Rapids. He objected to earmarking of $10,000 for land for a mental health center in Muskegon. He contends the structure should be located in Grand Rapids.

Suit Against Alabama Gets More Support

cite section 2 of the fourteenth amendment to the constitution. In pursuing such a suit Michigan would have to prove that voting rights were in fact denied. One spokesman said previous court records, proceedings in Congress and before the U.S. Civil Rights Commission probably would make this task not too difficult.

Michigan Affected
Next, the plaintiffs would have to present firm statistical data showing how many Negroes were being denied voting rights in order to make possible a determination of how many of Alabama's eight congressional seats should be withdrawn. Kelley seeks the suit because "each of us has an obligation to do what he can to assure the full enjoyment of constitutional rights by all of our citizens."

But he said Michigan could claim a direct interest since its own congressional representation could be affected by withdrawal of seats from Alabama and their consequent reallocation.

No such suit has been brought this century. The constitution provides that the U.S. Supreme Court has original jurisdiction in suits to which a state is a party.

Hydroplane Race Interest Builds

When officials of the Bay de Noc Racing Assn., Inc., get excited over crowds of 50,000 for the unlimited hydroplane race scheduled for July 11 in Escanaba they have just reason.

This letter — one of many already received asking information about the race — arrived today at the Chamber of Commerce offices: "We want to attend the unlimited hydroplane race in your city on July 11."

"Could you send us some information on this as well as information on motels and accommodations?"

The letter was signed by Mr. and Mrs. Gene Buckley, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Propose Dam On Tahquamenon To Create Big Lake

NEWBERRY — The installation of a new dam on the Tahquamenon River, better than 30 miles upstream from the famous falls, is proposed by the Luce County Planning Commission as a means of restoring fish and wildlife to this area.

The idea, according to co-chairmen Robert Sayles and Robert Wood, is to replace a dam installed on the river at Dollarville, two miles west of here, during the lumbering days. The dam was built by a saw mill operator to help run logs to his mill, but disappeared in the early 1920's and Dollarville almost became a ghost town.

While the dam held, a lake was created back of it and had vast numbers of pike, perch and other fish.

The Planning Commission proposes to raise $25,000 through local contributions toward the estimated $107,000 the project would cost. Applications would be made to the federal and state governments for the additional money. It is proposed that the project would be operated by the state Conservation Department. The man-made lake would cover some 1,400 acres and be about four miles long and in some places about a mile wide.

In the struggle for future security, do we ever stop to ponder that we may never live to enjoy the golden years? Especially, if we do not improve our driving habits?

Basketball Riot Source Checked

DETROIT (AP) — Taking strict disciplinary measures, Detroit officials sought to pinpoint the source of a riot following a high school basketball game Tuesday night.

The melee broke out after suburban Highland Park upset Detroit Northwestern 70 - 69 in the state regional championship.

Richard Dorro, 17, a Detroit Catholic Central High student whose team is in the same tournament, was listed in serious condition.

The others were released following treatment along with a 13-year-old Negro girl who was cut by flying glass.

Detroit police are holding a 15-year-old Negro Northwestern student in the stabbing of Lucas. They are also seeking an 18-year-old Northwestern student who was not in school Wednesday.

BIG WHEELS made at Nahma will be one of the attractions in the park there this coming summer. Ed Olson, one of Nahma's oldtime lumberjacks and employed by American Playground Device Co. poses with the wheels. (Daily Press Photo)

Nahma's Skill With Wood Benefits Playground Co.

By CLINT DUNATHAN
NAHMA — There is an important factor that favors success of the American Playground Device Co., in its decision to center its operations here in this quiet little town on the shore of Big Bay de Noc.

It is the long tradition of skill among Nahma men in working with wood. For Nahma is a woods town from its picket fences and planked post office and store steps to the lofty pines that border its streets.

The town that had its beginning more than a century ago (Nahma was a bustling mill-town before Escanaba was settled) has never had other than a woods industry located there. The Bay de Noc Lumber Co., largest in the village's history, cut its first logs in 1882 and closed down in 1951.

The American Playground Device Co., headed by Warren Miller, president, bought Nahma and its 4,400 surrounding acres of forest and shore in 1951 and began manufacturing some of the wood parts of its playground equipment there.

Pride In Work
Miller recently announced that American will move from Anderson, Ind., to Nahma beginning in July. There are now about 50 men on the American payroll at Nahma and Miller said he hopes to increase this number to about 200 within a couple years.

American has placed in two Nahma men, the Sefcic brothers, Joe and Frank, a considerable responsibility in the Nahma operation through the years. Joe is acting general manager for American and Frank is plant superintendent. Both are natives of Nahma and were (like so many others now with American) employed by the Bay de Nocquet Co.

"Here, I want to show you something," said Frank. "See if you don't think they're really something. Maybe you'll want to take a picture of them."

"They" are a pair of "big wheels" like the kind used in hauling logs from the woods in the earlier days of lumbering. They are 10 feet and painted eye-catching red and orange. The rims are made of steel four inches wide.

Make Many Items
"The late Albert Mercier and Ray Nadeau built them," Frank Sefcic said with pride. "Look at the way those spokes are set into the rims and the hubs."

That's just the way they were made in the early days. When the horses pulled down on the pole in front it lifted the logs up so they could be hauled out between the wheels.

The big wheels are to be placed on exhibition at Nahma, perhaps near the old logging locomotive. Also planned is a park display that will include samples of all of the equipment manufactured by American Playground Device Co. Here buyers can see each of the pieces of equipment American makes as the world's largest producers of such items.

There are merry-go-rounds, laminated wood diving boards, lifeguard chairs, swings, park benches, teeter-totters and other devices. Wood parts for these are being made at Nahma and their manufacture there dates back to 1951. But the metal parts have always been made at Anderson, Ind.

Plant Superintendent Frank Sefcic took us on a tour of the building that will house the expanding American operations at Nahma beginning this year. The huge frame structure, one-story high, was once used as part of the operations of the Bay de Nocquet Lumber Co.

The Very Best
"This building has more than 21,000 square feet of floor space," he said. "The new concrete floor was put down a short time ago. Here is where we make the wood parts for the different items."

In a wing to the south of the main plant is another building with about 10,000 square feet of space. This is being readied to receive the machines from Anderson that will convert it into the steel working section of the plant.

Sixty-seven bins for parts line the walls of the building and in addition there are 45 cupboards for use when the steel working section goes into production.

This will be a new operation in the experience of Nahma workmen. But it can be expected that those who are employed in steel working will bring to the job the same conscientious attitude that they have toward wood fabrication.

"Look at this," said Sefcic. "Here's what American quality means."

He showed us a stack of boards that are to become seats for swings. Each seat board is uniform in quality, in thickness, in the high gloss of its water-proof varnish. Sefcic picked one up and turned it over in his hands, feeling the perfection.

"These will be completely covered with rubber. No one will see them but us. But that's the way American builds things — the very best."

Tuscola Dying Without Bridge

TUSCOLA (AP) — For want of a bridge, life in this southeast Michigan community of some 200 is "being strangled."

The bridge over the Cass River in the farming community was hit by a truck and damaged. It collapsed last August.

County, state and federal agencies joined forces to rebuild it. The foundation was laid; abutments and piers were set and the promise of one-lane traffic by Jan. 1 made by the contractor appeared possible.

Then work stopped. Nothing has been done for nearly two months. With spring planting weeks away, things are becoming desperate.

Business Folds Up

Floyd Hoover, owner of the Cass River Lumber Co., said "We want our bridge back. Without it we are being strangled."

"All we are getting are excuses and rumors."

"First there was the rumor that the Michigan State Highway Department had lost the specifications," Hoover said.

Grants Total 1.89 Million

LANSING (AP) — Allocation of $1.89 million in federal funds to Michigan public schools, community colleges and colleges and universities was reported Wednesday by the State Department of Public Instruction.

The grants for the 1964-65 fiscal year are for the purchase of equipment for approved vocational education programs. The local units must match the federal grants.

The largest share, $1.47 million, went to 111 public schools. Detroit received a grant of $464,851, the top amount.

Colleges and universities received $158,526 as follows:

- Ferris State College $99,416
- Michigan State University $964
- Northern Michigan University $2,300
- Western Michigan University $55,845

Community colleges received $256,596, as follows:

- Benton Harbor (Lake Michigan) $33,052
- Dearborn (Henry Ford) $137,502
- Flint $16,471
- Grand Rapids $28,063
- Highland Park $4,005
- Lansing $5,490
- Muskegon $12,099
- Schoolcraft (Livonia) $19,932.

Donald Day New Vocational Head At Menominee

MENOMINEE—Donald Day, who from 1956-58 was cooperative education coordinator at Escanaba High School, has been appointed vocation education director at Menominee High School by the Menominee Board of Education.

Day, 37, will take over his new position Aug. 1.

Since leaving Escanaba, Day has served at Cherry Hill high school in Inkster, Mich., and at Dearborn high school. He comes to Menominee from the Dearborn system where he was cooperative coordinator and public relations instructor.

Also appointed by the Menominee Board was Education was Richard V. Yenchesky, 27, as community school director. Yenchesky, a native of Marion, Wis., will take over his duties July 1. He formerly taught at Stephenson high school and is currently teaching in the Flint school system.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Swisher of Ann Arbor arrived Monday night to visit his mother, Mrs. Emmett Crawn.

Mr. and Mrs. Ling Burns, Mr. and Mrs. William Barker and daughter Marleen and Mrs. Alec Locke and daughter Effie Marie of Gary, Ind., were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Barker. It was the occasion of James Jr.'s 5th birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Phineas Walsh of Lakefield were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Burns, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Bogner and son motored to Muskegon over the weekend. Harold Miller accompanied them and visited his father who is hospitalized at Grand Rapids.

In the Indian Ocean north of the equator, monsoons reverse direction every six months. Nowhere else is there a similar seasonal reversal of the prevailing winds.

Season On Pike Closed In State

Northern pike and the muskellunge seasons closed on Feb. 28 and the walleye season will close on March 15. The northern pike and muskellunge season will open again on May 15 and the walleye season will open again on April 23—just the day before the regular trout season opens up on April 24.

About the middle of April is the time to get out the dip net for smelt. This provides an interesting outing, but requires a fishing license. You can use the dip net to take the fish, but you cannot take any game fish this way.

Yellow Perch Hailed As Best In The Lakes

BY LEE SMITS

If we had to choose the king of Great Lakes fish, what species would it be? For a long time, muskellunge or great northern? For acrobatics on light tackle, rainbow trout? For man-hours of recreation, plus edibility, the walleye, pike-perch, pickerel? For romantic appeal, our native brook trout? What about bass, big-mouth or small-mouth?

If the judges gave major consideration to economic importance plus table appeal there would be no argument — the yellow perch would be crowned while the band played "Hail To The Chief."

As to the edibility of the perch we have the endorsement of a famous scientist, Dr. David Starr Jordan. In a massive work on American fishes, Dr. Jordan says that fish biologists discovered that they could eat—and relish — yellow perch day after day for a longer time than was possible with any other species of fish.

(My two cents' worth — no filet, whole perch, if you want the full flavor.)

PERCH GETS big treatment in a handsome brochure from the office of the Hon. A. Kelso Roberts, Ontario Minister of Lands and Forests. Toronto, Ontario and Michigan share the largest portion of Great Lakes waters and shoreline. Ontario is Canada's chief source of fresh water fish, and at the top of the list is perch.

More than 70 percent of the Ontario fish harvest comes from Lake Erie, with help from Lake St. Clair. The latest data lists an annual take close to 45 million pounds from Erie; more than 1,000,000 pounds from St. Clair. Total cash return from Erie and St. Clair, more than $2,500,000. Ontario bait-fish dealers get $1,500,000 a year from the sale of minnows.

Ontario prohibits the use of imported minnows, to prevent the introduction of undesirable species. The National Park Service prohibits the use of minnows from any source in the waters of Isle Royale, because of the possibility of upsetting the balance of fish populations.

MR. KELSO'S brochure shows that Canadian fishermen take from Lake Erie an annual catch of perch that is nearly equal to the total catch of all species by Michigan commercial fishermen.

This is accounted for by Ontario's regulations, which permit the use of trawls — long net bags, hauled by a tug.

Lake Erie has a perch mystery. Hook-and-line fishermen, about 15 years ago, began reporting fabulous catches of perch in Lake Erie off the Michigan shore. Presently commercial fishermen were complaining of an excess of perch. A few years ago perch were selling for five cents a pound at the dock. The annual catch of Great Lakes commercial fisheries included three million pounds of perch in 1953 — and 62 million pounds in 1963.

An old-timer remembers when there were commercial fisheries all along the Canadian shore of the Detroit River and Lake St. Clair, seines operated by a windlass and a plodding horse on the beach, and pound nets, extending from shoal water out beyond the drop off. Perch, walleye, black bass were standard items on the frog, fish and chicken dinners served in famous roadhouses along the Detroit River and the St. Clair.

States Will Get New Law Guide For Districting

WASHINGTON (AP) — House action is expected in about one week on legislation to guide the states in redrawing congressional district lines to meet the Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote rule.

The bill would require that no congressional district in one state vary by more than 15 percent from its mathematical population share; that districts be compact and in one piece, and that all members be elected by districts, excluding the present practice of electing one or more members at large.

The House Rules Committee cleared the bill Tuesday.

Flats. When the price, for all you could eat, jumped from 30 cents to 75 cents, customers were aggrieved.

Karen Skory Bride of Gerald Niedermaier

St. Francis Church in Traverse City was the setting for the recent wedding of Karen Ann Skory, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Skory, Traverse City, and Gerald John Niedermaier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald F. Niedermaier, 525 Minneapolis Ave., Gladstone.

Father Joseph Kohler performed the high noon ceremony which was followed by a reception at the Traverse City Golf and Country Club.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of ivory satin which featured a scoop neckline, long pointed sleeves and detachable train. A cascade of applique graced the bodice and slim skirt. A wreath of roses secured her veil of French illusion. Her flowers were white roses.

Miss Mary Skory was maid of honor for her sister. Her long gown of antique gold satin was detailed with velvet bows at the waist line. She wore a matching velvet bow headpiece and she carried long stemmed yellow roses. Identical ensembles were worn by the bridesmaids, another sister, Miss Jucy Skory, and Mrs. James V. Schram.

Best man was Mr. Schram and groomsmen were Don Empson, Gladstone, cousin of the bridegroom, and Dan McCormick, Big Rapids.

Mrs. Skory chose a navy blue knit and Mrs. Niedermaier wore a celery knit. Both mothers had corsages of yellow tea roses.

Mrs. John Marsh sang the music of the High Mass, accompanied by Mrs. B. DeLaney, organist.

The newlyweds are residing in Traverse City at 647 E. 8th. Both attended Northwestern Michigan College.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the bridegroom's parents at Pinestead Supper Club.

SMOKED PORK LOINS

Smoked pork loins appearing in many markets should be cooked to an internal temperature of 160° F. Place on a rack in an open pan, fat side up, just as you cook any other roast. Do not add water. Do not cover. Roast in a slow oven (325° F.) allowing 25 to 35 minutes per pound for roasts weighing 3½ to 4½ pounds. This amounts to about 1½ to 2 hours total cooking time.

CELERY SNACK

Like to nibble on celery as a snack? It's even tastier when the celery's stuffed with one cup of ground leftover ham mixed with ½ cup grated carrot and ½ cup salad dressing.

Kindred color fabrics for the home and its inhabitant serve as expressions of individuality and good taste. For leisure-time at home, this model has chosen a floral print poncho by Lady Manhattan. Avril rayon print in related pattern is used on the wicker chair and window shade.

BACON 'N' POTATOES touch to them with cooked. If the family likes creamed crumbled bacon, just before potatoes, then add a special serving.

Big jewelry makes fashion news for spring, and both short and tall girls can wear it. Looking left to right, the long earring can now be worn even by petite gals as long as they choose a modified design. Tall girls can really go all out with the shoulder-brushing earrings and can add a glamorous pin to the back of a party gown. When it comes to necklaces, the small girl can be braver than ever this spring. This three-strand "golden wardrobe" carries its own complement in earrings. The necklace divides into one or two strands and the danglers on the earrings are removable. The tall girl can be glamorous in assorted chains and tasseled earrings. Design by Sarah Coventry.

New Jewelry Ends Old Taboos

NEW YORK (NEA)—Designers broke the style barrier when they challenged such traditional taboos as "redheads can't wear pink; blue and green or black and brown must not be worn together." And the results of the breakthrough were dramatic and flattering to women.

Now all the old rules for choosing jewelry have been given the old heave-ho, too, according to jewelry designer Sarah Coventry.

If you're a short girl who has always yearned to wear long earrings, go ahead. It's no longer considered a fashion faux pas. If your neck is wide and you have always envied the gals who were more the neck-line type, you can be one of them now. Today's good design makes it possible for everyone to wear the kind of jewelry she likes if she selects each piece within the limits of good taste.

Your jewelry should be chosen not only for decorative reasons but also as a tool to play down your less-than-perfect features and spotlight your best qualities.

A quick look through the fashion news will show you that the long earring is a popular fashion right now. And you can wear a long earring no matter how tiny you are if you choose one to fit your height, figure and face shape.

A delicate design is best for the small woman. Its length should dip to the angle of the jawbone. If you are short and heavy, a thin, vertical design is best. The tall woman can wear any length but should choose the shape that does the most for her facial contours.

A necklace can also be used in a "cosmetic" way. Lengthen the appearance of a short neck with a long string of beads. If you are petite, avoid heavy clusters. A matinee-length necklace will add height.

The woman of average size has the most latitude. She can "steal" designs from both the short and tall styles and adapt them to suit her own needs.

You don't need special accessories for each costume, advises Sarah Coventry. Necklaces are available with removable rows which may be added or removed to suit the ensemble and occasion. Earrings are designed so that they can be added to, paired, lengthened or shortened.

The removal of the old fashioned taboos makes the wearer's role a creative one. Experiment with various combinations. You will find those most suitable for you.

Better Forests Goal Of MSU Researchers

Better forests for Michigan's $300 million timber industry and an "ideal" Christmas tree are the ultimate goals of research projects now under way in Michigan State University's Department of Forestry.

"It will be easy to breed for these trees once we have a better understanding of their growth habits and their genes," comments Dr. Donald P. White, forestry researcher. "With this information we could know how to use the greener, faster growing, straighter varieties which can be developed within the next 10 years."

Dr. White is currently working on the largest Scotch pine research project in the world—about 200,000 different seedlings of many different varieties growing at 40 locations throughout the United States and Canada.

"We want to make these and other trees the most completely studied anywhere," he comments.

A controlled environment chamber has already been installed in the MSU Forestry Department to help White learn more basic information. Another MSU researcher, Jonathan W. Wright, is currently trying to find out why and how light intensity and temperature affect yellowing in Scotch pine. Scientists have already noted that only specific varieties—those from northern Europe, Russia and Scandinavia—turn yellow in fall and then turn green again in spring. Other varieties such as those which come from Spain, southern France, Turkey and Greece remain green all year.

Hansen Signs Pea Growers

Hansen Canning Co., Gladstone, will be signing contracts to plant 650 acres of peas in Delta County within the next few days.

The contract will offer the same as in 1964 except that the company will put a minimum of $25 per acre guarantee in the 1965 contract. This is insurance against a loss in case of bad weather.

To qualify for the $25 minimum clause in the contract, the field man will have to approve the field the peas are to be planted in. The field must be properly fitted for the crop so that with normal weather conditions yields should be satisfactory. The $25 per acre clause will not apply if yields bring the income per acre about the $25 mark.

Contracts for beans will also be taken for 1965. Here too the acreage has been increased some for 1965.

The Hansen's are taking a serious look at the possibilities of canning sweet corn at some future date.

Tigers Get Set For First Game In Spring Loop

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers were scheduled to play another squad game today in a final tune-up for the opening of the Grapefruit League season Saturday.

Interim manager Bob Swift named Joe Spina, Denny McLain and Bill Paul to hurl against Syracuse farmhands.

Larry Sherry is expected to pitch at least the first four innings when the Tigers open against Minnesota at Orlando Saturday.

Swift, filling in for ailing Manager Charlie Dressen, asked the players Wednesday to give him the same degree of effort they would put forth for Dressen.

Then the team took the field for a long, spirited workout.

Swift, who filled in for Harry Craft when the Kansas City manager was hospitalized a few years back, said that while he had his own ideas on running a club, "they don't vary too much from Charlie's."

Swift said Al Kaline, Bill Freehan and Dom Demeter would be among the front-line players who can be expected to see action Saturday.

He said Dressen had arranged to have them play before he left for California where he eventually wound up in a Santa Monica hospital for what was described as a minor heart attack.

"But I have some ideas on the batting order and things like that," Swift said.

General Manager James Campbell said Swift knew how Dressen wanted to run the club and was the logical choice to replace him.

"He's got experience," Campbell said. "The real decisions in the next month are on our pitching staff. Bob and his coaches can handle this with (Vice President) Rick Ferrell and myself."

Houston Names First Captain

By The Associated Press

The Houston Astros have observed the appointment of their first captain while the San Francisco Giants are celebrating the return of their first baseman.

Manager Luman Harris said Wednesday that veteran infielder Eddie Kasko would be Houston's first field captain since its entry into the National League in 1962.

"I'm going to tell the team that when Eddie says something, it is the same as me saying it," Harris said. "I need somebody on the field to take charge. This guy is a real leader, and I think the team will benefit by his being the captain."

Kasko, 32, played seven seasons with St. Louis and Cincinnati before moving to Houston early last year. He batted .243 and drove in 22 runs in 133 games for the ninth-place Astros.

Free Throws Defeat Garden In Regional

ST. IGNACE—The Garden Jets reached the end of their tournament trail in a hail of personal fouls here Wednesday night, bowing to downstate Pellston by a 73-62 margin in the Class D regional tournament opener.

Coach Dave Pelletier's Jet cagers outgunned their Lower Michigan opponent by three field goals but it wasn't enough. Coach Tom St. Germain's Hornets cashed in on Garden's misfortunes by hitting 25 of 36 shots from the free throw line. Garden had a 27 to 24 edge in the field goal department.

Garden personal fouls took their toll early in the game as Pellston pulled to a 16-14 edge in the first frame and made it 32-28 at the intermission. Darrel LaVigne and Joe Jacques were in serious trouble in the third quarter and they took an early trip to the showers in the fourth. Barry Rochefort and Wilfred LaBresh also were in danger with four fouls apiece.

Pellston, a Class D school that feeds on a steady diet of Class C and Class B opposition below the straits, had three players in double figures last night. Shien and Clear teamed up for 45 of the Hornets' points. They had 17 free throws between them.

Pellston took command in the late stages of the game as Garden's uphill struggle failed to pay off. The Hornets led by five points, 46-41, entering the final frame and outscored the Jets 27-21 in the stretch.

While Pellston was tossing in 25 of 36 gift shots off 22 Garden personals, the Jets were adding only 8 of 12 from the line.

Rochefort, a 6 foot senior, closed out a brilliant prep career at Garden by scoring almost half his team's points against Pellston. He earned 13 field goals and four free throws for 30 points. That boosted his season total to 611 in 22 games, an average of 26.4 per start.

Garden closed the books on the current campaign with a 16-6 record. Pellston will carry a 12-8 mark into the Friday night semifinals against Gaylord St. Mary. Pickford and Eben tangle Friday night at 7 in the other semifinal contest.

Purdue's Eddy Latest Coach To Quit Post

By The Associated Press

There'll be a lot of new faces among the coaching fraternity in college basketball next season. No fewer than 10 resignations have been announced the last several weeks.

Ray Eddy, coach at Purdue University for 15 years, and Presley Askew, coach at New Mexico State for 12 years, were the latest to join the list. They announced their resignations Wednesday.

Other coaches who will not be back next season are Branch McCracken of Indiana University, Ed Jucker of the University of Cincinnati, Eddie Melvin of Toledo, Jim Williams of American University, Babe McCarthy of Mississippi State, Harbin Lawson of Georgia, Jim Nau of Idaho State and Chuck Orsborn of Bradley. Orsborn moves up to the post of director of athletics.

They join Taps Gallagher of Niagara and Joe Lapchick of St. John's University of New York, who will retire.

That means that Lapchick's career may end tonight when his St. John's Redmen encounter Bob Cousy's Boston College Eagles in the feature of a first-round doubleheader that opens the National Invitation Tournament in New York. Texas Western and Manhattan meet in the first game of the twinbill.

With the big boys idle awaiting the opening of the NIT and Friday's NCAA competition at four regional sites, the 27th straight victory this season for the Evansville Aces, the nation's No. 1 small-college team, highlighted Wednesday's play. With Little All-Americans Larry Humes, 30 points, and Jerry Sloan, 27, combining for 57 points, Evansville whipped Philadelphia Textile 92-76 in the quarter-finals of the NCAA small-college championship tourney at Evansville, Ind.

It was the 33rd in a row for the Aces who have won 53 of 56 games over a two-year span.

St. Michael's of Vermont upset Akron 101-87 in another quarter-final and goes against Evansville tonight in the semifinals. North Dakota and Southern Illinois meet in the other semi. The Sioux advanced by defeating Seattle Pacific 97-83 for their 19th straight and SIU trimmed Washington of St. Louis 76-67.

No successors to Eddy and Askew have been announced. Jim Malone replaces Gallagher, Ken Rosemond succeeds Lawson, Joe Dan Gold replaces McCarthy, Tay Baker succeeds Jucker, Bob Nichols succeeds Melvin and Lou Carmesecca steps into Lapchick's shoes.

Warm Weather Greets Golfers

MIAMI (AP) — The touring golf pros have been playing in an ice box this year, but the weather man predicted they will have warm sun during Miami's Doral Invitational which started today.

PGA champion Bobby Nichols was one of the many wanting relief after the coldest tour in five years.

"I played in the pro-am at Pensacola with four sweaters, a windbreaker jacket and pants, and I was still cold," Nichols said. "I lost all the feeling in my hands. It was miserable."

Palm Springs and Tucson were the only sites where heavy clothing was not required for at least a round or two, said Jerry Steelsmith.

In Miami, a temperature of 78 was forecast for the first round and maybe an 80 for the second day.

Billy Casper, winner of the Doral two of its three years, was a strong favorite to do it again.

Rated Teams Notch Wins In State Tourney Games

By The Associated Press

All four rated teams who saw action in the Michigan high school regional basketball tournament Wednesday night were winners. But things may not be as rosy tonight for some of the other highly-regarded clubs.

Eighth-ranked Saginaw Clipped Flint Beecher, 81-61, in Class A; Fenton (No. 2) trimmed Okemos, 66-55, and Troy (No. 7) downed Mount Clemens Clintondale, 70-75; in Class B, and third-rated Covert eliminated Litchfield, 73-58, in Class D.

Harbor Beach and Frankenthum — never more than six points apart throughout the game, played the closest contest of the night with Leroy Koehn's basket at the buzzer giving Harbor Beach a 60-58 verdict. The score was tied at 25-25 at the half.

The Class C contest was played at Bay City where Saginaw SS. Peter & Paul bested Bay City St. James, 69-61, in the nightcap.

Lakeview, a Class B finalist last year, overcame a three point half-time deficit and went on to defeat West Branch, 72-64. Larry Carrick spearheaded the rally, getting 16 of his 26 points in the second half. Greg Kimball had 24 for West Branch.

Lakeview played with one starter and the top substitute sidelined because of measles.

Don Reid turned in the top individual scoring effort of the night as he poured 43 points through the hoop in Flint St. Mary's 75-61 Class D win over Unionville.

Two other high-scoring performances were wasted as Trenton's Jim Hutchinson tallied 35 points in a 68-63 loss to Jackson and John Canine hit for 33 as Hazel Park bowed to Southfield, 77-65, in Class A.

Bruce Bass had 31 points in Troy's triumph, while Roy Hinton's 28 points paced Saginaw.

In one of the most one-sided contests of the night, Centerville outscored Bloomingdale, 26-7, in the third quarter and breezed to a 78-50 victory.

Twelve rated teams will be in

Russell Guides Celts To Win

By The Associated Press

The acting coach of the Boston Celtics has a sterling report for regular boss Red Auerbach today about big Bill Russell.

Auerbach was off on a scouting trip Wednesday while Russell and the Celtics romped over Detroit 124-106 and virtually ended any playoff hopes for the Pistons.

The acting coach's statistics on Russell read 25 points, 18 rebounds, five assists and seven blocked shots. An impressive line and one the acting coach will be most pleased to present to Auerbach. That's because the acting coach was Russell.

In Wednesday's other NBA action, New York ripped Philadelphia 134-123 and St. Louis thumped Cincinnati 137-113.

Wings Spread League Lead

By The Associated Press

Power play? It was more a power poop for the Toronto Maple Leafs and Chicago Black Hawks and nobody enjoyed the short circuit more than Detroit's high-flying Red Wings.

Detroit, considered just another club when the National Hockey League season started, is in first place today with a two-point lead over the stumbling Black Hawks as the regular season enters its final stages.

The Wings, with two games in hand on Chicago and five points on third place Montreal, picked up an important point on the Hawks with a 4-2 victory over Toronto while Chicago was being held to a 1-1 tie against New York Wednesday night. The triumph was Detroit's sixth straight.

Power plays and the failures of them, held the spotlight in both games.

Gordie Howe, who scored two goals, was out killing a Red Wing penalty in the first two minutes of the game at Toronto when he broke away and beat ex-teammate Terry Sawchuk for the first goal of the game.

The Leafs never recovered and before it was over, Normie Ullman had scored his 33rd and 34th goals of the year and Howe had added his 24th.

Hart Promotes TechLaboratory

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate appropriations subcommittee was urged today by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., to approve $390,000 for a forest engineering laboratory at Houghton, Mich.

Michigan has almost 20 million acres of forest land, Hart said, and much of it now supports second growth timber stands ready to be harvested.

"If this harvesting is to be done with maximum efficiency and with minimum harm to remaining trees, improved logging methods and equipment must be developed through engineering research," he said.

Hart noted that Congress last year provided $28,000 for planning the laboratory at Houghton and said he was pleased to report the plans have been completed.

"We are now ready to proceed with construction of this urgently needed facility, providing the necessary funds are appropriated this year," he said.

Hart urged also a $5.5 million appropriation to carry out the Commercial Fisheries Research and Development Act of 1964 instead of $2 million recommended ed by the Budget Bureau for use in the year starting July 1.

Under the Budget Bureau proposal, he said, Michigan would receive $11,500, "a sum which would be humorous if the matter were not so serious."

Hart said lack of research, combined with a series of natural and man-made disasters, the sea lamprey, botulism, pollution and low lake levels, has reduced the Great Lakes commercial fishing industry to the verge of bankruptcy.

Coloma Boy, 5, Kills Playmate In Gun Accident

State police identified the victim as Ronald Fairbanks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Fairbanks of rural Coloma. He died of a gunshot wound in the head.

Police would not identify the boy who fired the gun but said the shooting was accidental.
